Your residential or commercial real estate transaction may be the most significant financial transaction of your entire life. There are many factors to consider, whether you are buying or selling a condominium, townhome, detached home, recreational property or commercial premises. Our legal team handles hundreds of conveyances per year and is well equipped to advise and assist you with your own particular situation.

In addition to real estate transactions, our legal team has experience in commercial and residential expropriation, land development, and subdivision. For a consultation with one of our lawyers call 604.937.1166 or visit us at www.btmlawyers.com
